

Keeping your activities safe for children.
www.safenetwork.org.uk

"I work in an after-school club. It was reassuring to read that we are doing everything we can to keep children safe."

A Safe Network member

To see if Safe Network can help you, ask yourself these questions:

- Would you like advice on how to keep children as safe as possible?
- Would you like to know what to do if you're worried about a particular child?
- Would you like free professional training in how to make activities or services safer for children?
- Would you benefit from a really easy-to-use website full of great advice on child safety?

If the answer to any of these questions is “yes,” then Safe Network could be really useful to you and your group.

Safe activities. Happy children.

If you're involved with a voluntary activity group, club or organisation that works with children and young people, you'll know how important safety is.

Whether you're paid or a volunteer, there are lots of things to think about and that's where the Safe Network online resource comes in.

We created Safe Network with you in mind. Using our website costs nothing and you'll be able to access advice, clear and reliable information, and guidance on best practice. All of which will help you give the best protection possible to the children and young people in your group.

Helping you make the right decisions

The Safe Network website has everything from sample policy templates to parental consent forms, a range of awareness materials, training events, relevant news and message boards for getting in touch with similar groups.

Help and advice online

There are lots of clear, step-by-step guides and information on the website to help you check what you already have in place and what you may need to plan, including up-to-date information about the Government's Vetting and Barring Scheme and what it means for you.

Clear, useful online resources

You can order our free Are they safe? pack online. The pack has everything you need to make sure children in your group are safe. It includes a guide to developing policies, procedures and codes of behaviour, information on safe recruitment, a free DVD resource, leaflets, posters and much more.

Free training

We've teamed up with EduCare to give free training on the essentials of child protection, like what to do to prevent and deal with bullying. We run training workshops around England and we can give you advice on the kind of training your group could really benefit from.

Join the Conversation

If you've got ideas or examples of how to improve child safety, or questions about improving it, you can share your thoughts on The Conversation, our online message board.

Keeping you updated

Check out the Safe Network website and register to get all the latest updates. We're always adding new information so keep on looking.

If you've got any questions, just call 0116 234 7217 or email us at info@safenetwork.org.uk

www.safenetwork.org.uk